

MANAGING DEVELOPMENT IN A GLOBAL CONTEXT

BY O.P. DWIVEDI, RENU KHATOR AND JORGE NEF

Managing Development in a Global Context examines the complex relationship between management, development and globalization from a multidimensional perspective. Key authors in the field explore the historical record, the current global, regional and national characteristics of present developmental and managerial dilemmas, and possible future scenarios. Adopting a refreshing critical perspective, this book bridges the gap between theoretical literature and practices needed to understand the process of development management challenges facing the South.

CONTENTS: Managing Development in a Global Context: An Introduction - PART ONE: THEORETICAL AND HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVES - History of Development and Development as History - Globalization and Trans-nationalization of the State - Poverty and Sustainable Livelihoods - Marginalization and Exclusion - Trade, Labour and Human Rights in a Global Context - PART TWO: CONTEMPORARY PARADIGMS - The Transition From Development Administration to New Public Management: An Interpretative Exploration - PART THREE: ISSUES AND CHALLENGES - Global Challenges and Managerial Culture - Challenges for the Administrative Culture in a Globalized World - Democracy, Governability and Governance - Ethics of Development: Governance and Management in a Global Era - PART FOUR: THE WAY AHEAD - Some Reflections on the Wellbeing of Nations

O.P.DWIVEDI Order of Canada, Ph.D., LL.D. (Hon), Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada, is University Professor Emeritus, Department of Political Science, University of Guelph, Canada. He is a past president of the Canadian Political Science Association (Ottawa), president of the Canadian Asian Studies Association (Montreal), and a former Vice President of the International Association of Schools and Institutes of Administration, Brussels, Belgium. His international consultancy include working for the World Bank, UNESCO, UNO, UNESCAP, WHO, and CIDA.

RENU KHATOR is a Professor of the Department of Government and International Affairs, University of South Florida, USA. She is currently the Provost and Senior Vice President at the University of South Florida, USA. She has 5 authored, co-authored or edited book and over 60 articles and chapters in books and scholarly journals.

JORGE NEF is Professor in Rural Extension Studies and International Development at the University of Guelph, Canada, and Director of the Institute for the Study of Latin America and the Caribbean (ISLAC) at the University of South Florida, USA. His areas of research include human security, political economy, inter-American relations, global studies and public policy. He is a current Vice President of the Canadian Society for the Study of International Development, a past President of the Canadian Association of Latin American and Caribbean Studies, the recipient of many teaching awards and recognitions throughout his career, and inducted into the World Academy of Art and Science (2003).

